

Financo Full Time Opportunities, Class of 2018

New York Office

Submit resume to JMintz@financo.com by Friday, August 25th for accelerated recruiting

Financo is a boutique investment bank committed to the Retail & Consumer sectors. Founded in 1971, Financo is one of the longest continuously operating independent boutique investment banks in the U.S. In this time, we have completed more transactions in the consumer sector than any other investment bank or advisory firm. We've cultivated an invaluable network of relationships and we've built a successful roster of clients that seek our services. Select transactions include the financial advisor to Jos. A. Bank Clothiers Inc. on its sale to Men's Wearhouse, exclusive financial advisor to DevaCurl on sale from Tengram Capital Partners to Ares Management, and exclusive advisor to Bain Capital on its partnership with TOMS. Headquartered in New York, we have additional offices in London and San Francisco. To learn more about Financo, please visit the Firm's website at www.financo.com.

Full Time Analyst Recruiting Opportunities - Class of 2018

Full Time Analysts at Financo will gain an in-depth knowledge of corporate finance in the retail, apparel and merchandising sectors. Extensive quantitative and analytical skills will be utilized to support the Firm's mergers and acquisitions, financial restructuring, and general financial advisory services. Due to the small size of the Firm, analysts typically work on project teams ranging in size from three to five bankers, and have an unprecedented amount of exposure to the Firm's clients, senior bankers and Chairman.

Rising seniors are encouraged to submit their resume to JMintz@financo.com by August 25th to apply for accelerated recruiting. Please include your summer internship and whether or not you received a return offer in your correspondence.
